L-W Vaudeville Show Will Open Tomorrow Night

Corridors and gym at Lincoln-Way high school have taken on the aspect of theatrical boarding houses where performers put spare time and space to use in rehearsing and polishing their acts in anticipation of the day when they would get solid booking on the Keith circuit.

Hoofers—softshoe as well as tap—can be seen in their routines; singers, soloists and the close harmony talent, can be heard getting the pipes in tune and the performers in dramatic and comedy sketches are going about mumbling lines and rehearsing their business.

The reason for all this activity is that the students of the Lincoln-Way musical department are staging a nine-act vaudeville show in the school gymnasium tomorrow and Saturday nights, March 22 and 23. Curtain time will be at 8 o'clock.

Tickets may be purchased in advance or at the door.

The board of education is holding open house in conjunction with a simple ceremony marking formal acceptance of the building from the architects, Kruegel, Wilkins, Healy and Moore.

It has four classrooms now in use and in addition to these there is a space that can serve as an all purpose or assembly room. Eventually it will be converted into two classrooms by erection of a partition.

The building is of brick veneer, with terrazzo floors and glazed tile wainscoting, factors that make for easier cleaning and maintenance.

Burglars Get $550 of Tires At Frankfort

Burglars broke into the Raymond Warning and Son Oil Co. station at Frankfort Tuesday night, or early Wednesday morning and carried off 25 automobile tires valued at approximately $550 and broke into a new steel file, causing damage of about $100. There was nothing in the filing cabinet.

Eight of the tires were recovered. They had been abandoned about five miles south of Frankfort, alongside a 1954 Cadillac that was in a ditch.

According to the report at the office of Will county Sheriff, Roy Doerfler, the car was traced to Louis Guiliani, 37, 212 Durham, Steger. Authorities are seeking Guiliani to question him about the burglary. Records at the sheriff's office show that Louis Guiliani has been arrested several times in the past and that he was sentenced to the penitentiary for one to 10 years in 1950 on a charge of larceny.

A police squad from Matteson was first apprised of the burglary and the officers notified the sheriff's office at Joliet. Deputies John Shelley and William Miller made the investigation for the county and state police from the Joliet district assisted in tracing the car found where the tires were abandoned. The ground was soft at this point and tracks of another car were discernible along side those of the Cadillac. The Cadillac apparently slid and went into the ditch, deputies reported.

Detail From Orland NIKE Base to Show Guided Missile at Champaign

The army's Nike guided missile which can out-speed, out-climb and out-maneuver any known aircraft in the world today can be seen by the public cradled on its launcher system at the University of Illinois campus during the state high school basketball tournament to be held March 22-23 at Huff gym. The missile, which is named for the Goddess Victory of Greek mythology, will be centered midst student displays at the campus Armory which neighbors the gym. The public can see this weapon which is presently guarding the nation's key target areas on March 22 from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. and on March 23 from 8:00 a.m. to noon.

The Nike will be explained by nine soldiers of the 13th Anti-aircraft Artillery Missile Battalion who have traveled with the missile from the 13th Anti-aircraft Missile Battalion in Orland Park, as a part of the coast to coast missile artillery defense system. County Clerk Joseph Hartley has announced the 1956 tax rates for the various townships of Will county that will be used in figuring the tax bills that must be paid this year.

In making out a tax bill the equalized assessed valuation of a piece of property is multiplied by the rate. The rate is obtained by adding 5 per cent to the tax levy and then dividing the sum by the equalized assessed valuation of the taxing body concerned.

Taxing bodies that have large assessed valuations have an advantage over those with less. Areas containing industry thus have an advantage over areas made up of farms and residential property.

It also is a fact that in areas where delinquency in tax payments runs high, taxing bodies endeavor to compensate for their losses by boosting levies so that in the long run the person who pays his taxes is penalized by the person who doesn't. Most persons pay their real estate taxes because failure to do so means their property will be sold. Most delinquency is in the payment of personal taxes. Records show quite a delinquent list in personal taxes in New Lenox and Frankfort townships, authorities point out. Both townships also lack any appreciable amount of industrial property.

Increases in population increase demands for public services, it was explained, with the result that taxes have gone up. Additions to school because of growing enrollments account for most of the increases, it was stated.

Persons living within the village of New Lenox have a tax rate of $3.50 per $100 equalized assessed valuation, of which $2.592 is for schools.

Within the village of Frankfort the total rate will be $3.355 (Continued to page 16)

Village Mayors Will Discuss Disaster Setup

In connection with disaster preparedness plans for the Will county chapter of the American Red Cross, Constantine Macris, county disaster chairman, has invited the presidents of all Will county villages to meet with them at Red Cross chapter headquarters in the Elks Building in Joliet tonight, March 21. This meeting was formerly scheduled to be held Jan. 10 but was postponed on account of an ice storm thruout the county.

Each village president or mayor has been requested to appoint a Red Cross disaster representative for his community who would work with the chapter should a catastrophe strike, and act as a liason agent with all of the various chapter committees.

Shelter surveys are being made for each community and key committees appointed to start immediate emergency relief as well as to assist families with their recovery should homes be destroyed and a large number of persons injured.

While the National Red Cross sends assistance to communities whenever and wherever it is needed, the chapter organization is still the group which must get on the job immediately and work with the National Red Cross representatives in developing the rehabilitation plans.

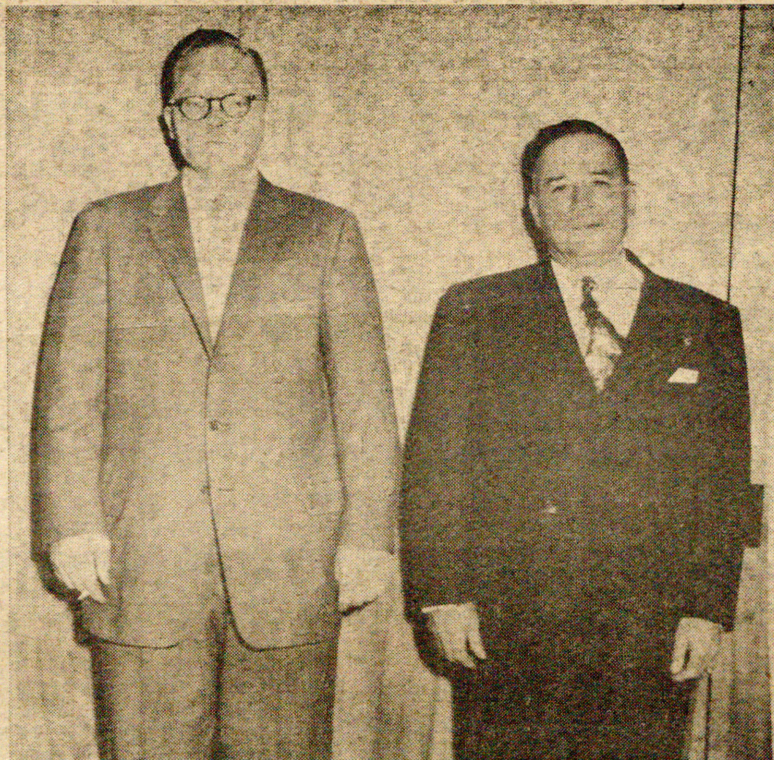

The Red Cross chapter board of directors and the disaster committee is very anxious to have complete coverage of the whole chapter jurisdiction in connection not only with its chapter organization but also to work with adjacent chapters on a mutual aid program.

Spring Makes Official Entry but Keep That Coat

Ah Spring! It officially arrived yesterday afternoon, March 20, heralded with clear blue skies and welcome sunshine. The promise is for warmer weather, but don't be in a hurry to uncover your prize roses or lay away the winter overcoat. March is a fickle wench and in the Chicago area could blanket us under a few feet of snow before old Man Winter gives up for the year.

Church Plans Neighbor Sunday

Sunday, March 24, will be observed in the Frankfort Methodist church as "Bring Your Neighbor Sunday" according to Ralph Dralle, official board chairman. The special day has been planned by the board to emphasize the Christian attitude of brotherhood and friendliness. "It is hoped that this observance might remind all of us that being a good neighbor includes extending an invitation to church," Mr. Dralle said.

The plan is that each member and friend of the Frankfort church will personally invite an inactive member, an unchurched family, or a newcomer to attend the services and activities of the day with him.

Special recognition of guests and the member family which brought the most "neighbors" with them will be given in the 9:30 a.m. worship service. SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The science department at Carl Sandburg high school is one of the more popular departments, both from the standpoint of student enrollment and community interest. Since one year of science is required for graduation, all freshmen take either general science or in special cases, biology. However, it is interesting to note that in these times of so called lack of scientists, that the elective science courses at Sandburg are most popular with upper classmen. For example, during the current school year 73 per cent of the sophomore class is enrolled in biology, and 41 per cent of the Junior and senior classes are taking Physics or Chemistry.

The science department is made up of the following teachers: Frank Wing, general science; W. Brown, and E. Triner, biology; C. Moore, general science and agriculture and D. Hopkins, physics, chemistry and general science.

One of the highlights of the whole school year, as far as the science department is concerned, is the science fair, this year to be held, Friday evening, April 5 in the Sandburg gymnasium. All year long, students in the various science courses, have been working on special research projects, and on the fifth of April these will be on display for the public. Some of the projects to be shown cover such wide areas as terrestrial magnetism; light refraction; physical principles in children's toys; micro-photography; solar system models and many others. In all, it is expected that there will be 150 projects on exhibit.

The winners in the Sandburg science fair will be eligible to enter the Illinois Junior academy of science district science fair, at Morton high school, and any first or second prize winners at this fair, then enter the final state science fair, to be held in May. (Last year out of four entries in the district fair, Sandburg sent two to the final contest, where a first and second place award was presented.)

The men of the Sandburg science department, as well as the administrators of the school, are fully aware of the need for a broad science curriculum and anticipate the addition of such courses as: advanced biology, advanced chemistry, and electronics or advanced physics, in the near future.

Spring's Abloom Theme of Garden Club Exhibit

"You have to believe the buds will blow, Believe in the grass in the days of snow; Ah, that's the reason a bird can sing— On his darkest day he believes in Spring."

—D. Malloch
Spring in all its glory will be brought to Chicago ahead of Mother Nature. Spring's Abloom Mother Nature.

"Spring's Abloom—in Town and Country" is the theme of the Chicago Flower Show of 1957 which The Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., will present at Navy Pier, March 23-31, in conjunction with the Modern Living Exposition. Twenty thousand square feet of exhibition space will be converted into a walled garden of Roman brick with ivy and all white flowers—tulips primroses and hyacinths; a terrace; picnic area; lathe house and hot bed—all with growing plants. A new innovation in Chicago will be the succulent garden—the little known member of the plant kingdom but so very adaptable. The plants and flowers grown in the garden will be those that customarily bloom at the same time.

The artistic section (table set to be exhibited in competition tings and flower arrangements by garden clubs) will have 3 divisions—each representing a way of life:

"City Slickers"—the sleek and sophisticated

"Suburban Dandies"—a bit more casual but 'in the know'

"Country Cousins"—less formal in approach but with a deep appreciation of the 'good things of life' The Palos Park Garden club will have a candle arrangement in the Country Cousins.

Garden club members are known for their talent, originality, research, diligence and tireless efforts in creating a pleasing 'picture'. They will incorporate flower arrangements with fabrics, sculpture, old treasures, candles, scales and various accessories.

Not to be outdone in the artistic class will be the horticulture exhibits of flowering branches (forced) and house plants. The African violet enthusiast will see some prize winning specimens exhibited by experts.

There will be an entirely new show staged on Wednesday, March 27. All exhibits will be judged by competent judges from many states.

The Flower Show will be at the entrance to the Exposition's two miles of exhibits pertaining to the home. There will be thirty-four model rooms designed by some of Chicago's outstanding interior decorators.

Lectures twice a day at 2:30 and 7:30 will be given in the 'Flower Theatre' near the entrance. Flower arrangement demonstrations and horticulture lectures will be featured.

Labor Day is the only national holiday recognized by Congressional action.

Big Prize Goes to Woman

Mrs. Shoop had on display the new library books purchased as one of our projects.

We were fortunate to have as our guest Miss Helen Campbell, Cook county health nurse from Evergreen Park who told of the change that has taken place in the line of duty for the nurse in the last 10 years. A question and answer period followed. There has been no nurse for this area for two years but the PTA health committee has carried on with hearing and eye test. A complete health record is kept on every child and the parents are notified when shots are needed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bowers and Mrs. DeFore at a table decorated to honor St. Patrick's Day.

SPORTS TALK

This is the time of year when winter sports such as hockey and basketball are ending and summer sports—boating, baseball, etc., begin to attract attention.

Before we close the door on basketball — especially high school basketball—I'd like to make a suggestion. Recently I attended a round-robin to determine the championship team of York township. The teams competing were Oak Park, Piquette, Glenbard and York. The program consisted of two teams playing each other—then the winners of each to compete for the championship. (Oak Park won, incidentally). It was very enjoyable but I think they tried to accomplish too much in one afternoon. After all, the gym can only accommodate a certain number of rooters. This meant that the fans of each of the four teams were confined to one quarter of the gym and many had to be turned away.

Wouldn't it have been better if the two teams had played in the morning, the other two in the afternoon, and then in the early evening, the winners of each game could have competed in a playoff? That way, the boosters of each team could have been present to cheer their team—instead of disappointing such a large number of students. It's something to think about, anyway.

Our sports question for today may seem to be a little early but it's on a subject that a lot of baseball fans are already discussing. Here it is: (Sent in by G. McD)

Q. Have you been keeping track of the pre-season predictions for the baseball championship teams in 1957? If so, what is the consensus of opinion?

A. I did a little research on this subject, going back a couple of weeks to the beginning of spring training. As close as I can figure out—the consensus of opinions voiced by managers, baseball writers and the players themselves—it looks like New York again in the American League and Milwaukee in the National League.

We're sending G. McD a sport

Claim New Type Sewage Plant Will Save Taxpayers Big Money

(CNS) City and village officials thruout the country will keep a close eye on a pilot plant to be installed at the sewage treatment works in Stickney.

The plant is heralded as a revolutionary process in the treatment of sewage and if successful will save taxpayers millions of dollars in costs.

So says the man who announced the program, Anthony Olis, president of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Chicago.

Olis said Friday that a New York firm, which developed the new process, will build and pay for the pilot plant. The Sterling Drug company hopes to sell the idea, if successful, to municipal sanitary systems across the country.

William A. Dundas, the sanitary district's general superintendent, said no smokestacks are involved and that the process emits no substances into the atmosphere.

The system involves oxidation of sludge by using compressed air with only odorless ash and inoffensive water remaining.

The new process will not produce commercial fertilizer as present methods do.

Dundas said the new setup is expected to bring economies by cutting operating costs, even though the district now recovers about $2.5 million annually from sale of fertilizer.

Mokena Meteors Win Cage Tourney

Defeats Frankfort 47-35 in Hard Fought Game at New Lenox

Mokena's Meteors coached by Jim Wrath, won the fourth annual New Lenox grade school tournament Saturday night by defeating Frankfort in the title game 47-35. The Mokena aggregation was rated by many observers as the strongest champions to emerge from this event in its four year history.

The strong backboard work of Yunker, Morris and Gibson, the good outside shooting by Kropp, and the sparkling floor play of Kruzich provided the power which allowed the Meteors to put the tournament trophy on the shelf besides the DesPlaines Valley Conference trophy which they had also won this year.

The tournament was unusual this year in the closeness of its competition. Three of the first five games were decided by one point margins and in the Saturday night finals, two of the three games were decided in overtime sessions.

The champion Mokena team was held to a tight first quarter by second place Frankfort in the title game, leading by a 13-point third period killed all Frankfort title hopes. Yunker of Mokena hit for nine of his 13 points in the third period. Kruzich with 11 and Gibson with nine were other high Mokena scorers in this game. Waldvogel and Nice of Frankfort with 9 each lead their scoring.

Baskets by Brazier and Morgan and a charity toss by Brazier of Troy in the overtime, out-marched Laraway's three free-throws to break the 24-24 tie that marked the end of regular game time and gave Troy a 29-27 third place trophy. Palmer and Gear with 10 and 8 points were Laraway's big guns in this game, while Brazier and Morgan with 11 and 9 lead Troy scoring.

In the first game Saturday night, the host team, New Lenox, who had lost a heart breaker to Laraway in the opening round, got some satisfaction by winning the consolation round title. This thriller ended in a 21-21 tie at the end of regular play. In the overtime period, Larry Wilson hit one field goal and two free throws which with Kurt Fredin's free throw out-scored Channahon's three free-throws to give New Lenox a 26-24 win. Jack Jessen of New Lenox with eight markers led the scoring in this game.

In the Friday night games, New Lenox coasted to an easy 31-13 victory over Elwood. After the starting combination had piled up a 19-4 half-time score, New Lenox reserves played the fast half and outscored Elwood by a 12-11 margin. Jessen tallied ten points for New Lenox.

The Mokena-Troy game which followed was an easy 34-14 romp from Mokena. As in the preceding game of the evening, Mokena held a 19-4 lead at half-time, and outscored Troy 15-10 in the final half. Skip Kruzich hit for seven field goals to lead the Meteor scoring.

Frankfort defeated Laraway in its semi-final game on Friday 39-25. After being held to a 11-9 margin at the quarter and 17-12 at the half, Frankfort led by Schofield's seven field goals, his total for the game, in the second half asserted its superiority and qualified for the title game. Waldvogel scored ten for Frankfort and Nice hit for nine. Whittier of Laraway led his team with 10 markers.

On Thursday night Frankfort walloped Elwood 41-12. Schofield led the Frankfort scoring with 15, Nice followed with 13. Frankfort hit 30 of its tallies in the last half, after holding an 11-5 margin at half-time.

McKenny's 15 footer with 8 seconds to go gave Laraway a 36-35 win in a ding-dong battle with New Lenox. Laraway led 18-17 at the half, and 29-23 at the third quarter. A hot twelve point last period almost won for New Lenox. 4 free throws by Ullrich, a basket and two free throws by Fredin, and baskets by Wilson and Summers looked good until McKenny's clutch shot. Jack Jessen led the scoring for New Lenox with 10. McKenny hit eighteen points in the game for Laraway.

In the third game Thursday, in the consolation bracket Channahon eliminated Manhattan 20-19. Until the third quarter the score seemed to indicate that a baseball game had been scheduled instead of a basketball game. Manhattan led 3-2 at the quarter. Channahon led 7-5 at the half. Manhattan led 14-10 at the third quarter ended. In the last quarter, Channahon hit five field goals while Manhattan hit for two and one free throw, giving Channahon a 20-19 victory. Jones of Manhattan led all scorers in this game with 12 points.

In the Wednesday night opener Brazier with 11 points and Grimm with 10 led Troy's scoring to give Troy a 30-29 victory over Channahon. Lamping of Channahon was high scorer with 16 points.

Mokena ran into a keyed-up Manhattan team in the second game of the evening, but emerged as a 51-39 winner. Control of the back boards proved to be the decisive factor in this game. Yunker led Mokena scoring with 16 points, Morris hit 13 and Kruzich 9. Jones and Douglas each hit 13 for Manhattan.

Police Baseball Loop Organizes For Second Year

Harold C. Moore, Tinley Park police chief was elected baseball commissioner of the southern section of Cook county police leagues at a meeting held in the Bedford Park police station, county sheriff's office, on March 13. William McBurney, manager of the local police team was also present at this first meeting of the season.

The league is divided into three sections, southern, central and north. It was formed by Sheriff Joseph Lohman last year. Five new entries are expected in the southern section.

Manager McBurney expects Tinley Park to again field a strong team. He and coach Joe Diamond will again manage the local team. The first game is scheduled for June 2.

Boys desiring to play in the local team ages 15, 16, and 17, not reaching their 18th birthday by Sept. 15, may contact Mr. McBurney at KEllogg 2-2805.

According to the police league rules, any player signing with one team in the league, cannot sign with another league team.

The Tinley team were champions of the southern section last year and took second place in the league championship games.

The organizational group will hold its next meeting in Bedford Park on March 27.

Need Volunteers For Small Fry Baseball Teams

Adults interested in the Tinley Park Small Fry league baseball program are invited by league president, Reinhart Meyer, to attend a meeting in room 103 of the Tinley Park school at 8 p.m. Monday, March 25.

The first organizational meeting of the season was held on March 12, at which 25 volunteers drew up plans for the coming baseball season.

In order to carry out the proposed program, more volunteers to serve as coaches and managers will be required. The group propose to organize one Small Fry traveling team and a league composed of four additional teams; one Babe Ruth team and four Pony league teams. With such a program, 60 more boys than last year will be playing organized baseball.

The Small Fry range in age from 8 to 12; Pony league, 13 and 15; Babe Ruth, 14 and 15. Registration of boys of these age groups will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Tinley Park school on April 1, 2 and 3.

Applications to be filled out by parents will be distributed thru the various local schools and will also be available at the school during registration.

Last year 90 boys ages 8 thru 15 were playing organized baseball in Tinley Park. To expand the program so that 150 youngsters will have to be acquired.

The volunteer baseball program which has been active in Tinley Park for several years, started with one Small Fry team. The increased number of youngsters trying out each year, has made expansion of the program necessary. Without the help of fathers and other interested men to assist in the management of the teams, many boys will be disappointed.

The success of the proposed program depends upon the success of the appeal for more volunteers.

Illinois Bell To Telecast State Prep Cage Finals

A 10-station television network—believed to be the largest ever to cover a high school athletic contest—will carry the Illinois High School Association Basketball tournament on Saturday, March 23.

Station WBKB-TV, Channel 7 will be the outlet for the games in this area.

Illinois Bell Telephone Co., sponsor of the program, expects that the telecast will "play to an estimated 2,500,000 viewers in just about every nook and cranny of Illinois."

Television coverage of semifinals will begin at 1 p.m. on Saturday, March 23, from Huff Gymnasium in Champaign. Play for third place will begin at 7:30 p.m. followed by the championship game.

Jack Drees, Chicago sportscaster and Chick Hearn, former Peoria announcer, will handle the TV play-by-play. Hearn, who with Drees has covered every telecast tournament, will return to "home pastures" from Los Angeles where he is building up a reputation as a sportscaster. Alex Saudargas, coach of the champion West Rockford High team for the past two years and now in private business, will analyze the plays and handle "color".

This is the sixth year in which the tournament has been telecast by Illinois Bell.

Plan Fund Drive For Tinley Park Library

The Tinley Park library, a Woman's club project, is in need of more room and the only way to get it is to put up another building. And of course the only way to get another building is to raise the money to pay for it. The Tinley library board is planning to do that very thing and to that end the persons pictured above are studying a map of the community with the idea of dividing the territory for canvassing later by teams enlisted in the various fund raising campaigns. Seated are Mrs. Walter Reed, (left) chairman of the ways and means committee, and Mrs. Voris Miller, library board president. Standing are Mrs. Bernard Ercius, chairman of the publicity committee, and Mayor Jeffords.

Letters To The Editor

Editor:

On Monday, March 11, the Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce sponsored a meeting at the Tinley Park public school to introduce candidates for elected offices of the village. Each of the candidates were given and availed themselves of an opportunity to inform those present of their reasons for filing petitions for the office they seek.

School board members are non-partisan and are not affected by federal, state, county or local elections. However there were several references made by candidates to the high school. Specifically, reference was made by one candidate, to the optioned site located on 175th street. The school board has an option to buy this site. The candidate stated he did not favor a school building on this site as it should be retained for industrial growth. He further stated other property was available for a school building and he specifically mentioned property at 167th street and Oak Park ave.

To correct any misinterpretations that such statements may have, I feel it my duty to publicly announce, as has been announced at several previous meetings, the following information:

During the past twelve months the entire school board have diligently searched for property for future expansion. All board members and Supt. Birkhead agree that Tinley Park is a logical location for the second high school due to the present student population in Tinley Park and due to the anticipated future growth in this immediate area. Tinley Park village board was approached and asked for assistance to locate property nearly a year ago. Our problem has been discussed with the village board several times since the initial request.

We have visited and investigated several properties including that located at 167th street near Oak Park avenue. The school board reported to the Tinley Park village board on Feb. 4, 1957 reasons why the property at 167th street near Oak Park avenue was very undesirable for a high school. The main reasons are repeated here for public information.

1. The property is not satisfactorily located as it is about one block west of Oak Park avenue and is at the extreme west border of the school district.

2. The property is "L" shaped instead of square or rectangular.

3. It is not readily accessible for automobile and school bus traffic.

4. The amount of grading required would cost you taxpayers a considerable amount of money.

There are several other reasons why this property is not desirable for a high school but I do not consider it necessary to go into more detail regarding property which is so unsatisfactory for a high school.

It is not my intent in publishing this article to indicate my preference for, or my opposition of any candidate for election to an office in the village of Tinley Park. Instead I desire only to correct any misinterpretations that may have been implanted at the meeting Monday, March 11, 1957 or at any other time. As an elected member of The board of education, district No. 228, I consider it my duty to the taxpayers of said district to inform them of pertinent and actual facts.

One or more members of the board of education will gladly meet with any group publicly,

High School Board High Handed

Tinley Park would like to have a high school located within or near its confines, its leaders agree, but not in the place selected by the Bremen high school board.

The Bremen high school board wants to build a school on 175th street east of the village in an area zoned for industrial use.

The board tried to get Tinley Park Associates, which is developing the industrial area, to agree to sell it 40 acres of land that is platted for industry.

Until this situation developed it was fair to assume that the Bremen high school board was made up of persons of intelligence and business sense. Now one wonders.

Tinley Park Associates have contact with several industrial firms who show a definite interest in a Tinley Park location. Within the next five years the Associates expect to have brought a number of firms to the area.

Charles Smith, president of Tinley Park Associates, basing his estimates on advices of experts and engineers, says that the area from the Rock Island railroad tracks south to 183rd st., now zoned for industrial use, will serve as a site for plants and factories having an equalized assessed valuation of approximately $110-million, which would be equal to the present entire equalized assessed valuation for the whole of Bremen township.

The schools are the biggest tax users in the township. Bremen high school and Tinley grade school districts are bonded to capacity and confronted with rising operating costs as enrollments increase, the income must fall far behind expenditures unless the valuation is boosted sufficiently to bring in the needed tax money.

New homes don't mean much as far as taxes are concerned. New homes usually mean new families and new families mean more children and more children means that schools must have more money. A homeowner with a child does not begin to pay in taxes what it costs to educate his offspring. The Rock Island railroad helps a lot because the railroad pays a substantial tax in Bremen township and there are a few businesses scattered about the area that also help but by the large Bremen township depends on homeowners to supply the taxes and the homeowners just can't take on much more, whether in real estate, personal, sales or income taxes. Finding another means to tax the individual isn't going to get in more money. The individual just doesn't have it.

Unless Tinley Park and other communities like is can get industry in to help share the tax burden they are practically certain to develop into rural or suburban slums, for the simple reason that an individual who works for a living just can't afford to own a home in Tinley, or any community like it, because of the taxes.

Tinley now has an excellent chance to get industry. Industry will ease the path of the taxpayer. Industry will ease the path of the taxing bodies, particularly the schools.

That is why we question the business foresight of the Bremen high school board when it deliberately invades the industrial area and says—"This is the only place where we can locate a school."

Such an attitude on the part of the board is ridiculous especially in view of the fact that there are other sites available.

Refused by Tinley Park Associates of its first choice for a school site, the Bremen board obtained an option on 40 acres on the south side of 175th street and immediately south of the Associates property. This proposed site is at the north end of a 640-acre tract which, as stated previously, is zoned for industry. If the school is permitted to acquire the property then the remainder of the area is bottled up.

If industry should elect to go ahead and take over south of the school site then the school would find itself closed in by industrial plants.

Even industry on one side is not desirable for a school. The heavy traffic of trucks and passenger cars that would develop thru deliveries of materials to and from plants and the workers going to and from their places of employment would constitute a real danger to students and faculty members of the high school. Surround a school entirely by industry and the hazards to pupils and teachers of course increase.

The board has chosen to ignore the safety factor and perhaps rightly because certainly such traffic hazards would not endanger any of the board members personally as they would not have to any of the board members personally. They would still hold their meetings in comfort at Midlothian.

The public will have an opportunity to express its opinion on the matter at the regular school election, April 13. At that time the public will be asked to approve the 175th street site in Tinley Park for school purposes.

It will be to the best interests of the high school district, the grade school district, yourself and all the taxpayers of Bremen township to be sure and go to the polls and vote "NO".

at any time to discuss any phase of our present school or of our

KIND WORDS

Editor:

As one of the candidates for office in the coming election, I was naturally most interested in your coverage of the public meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Having read Mrs. Rodger's story in last week's Tinley Park Times, may I congratulate you on the full and impartial coverage you and the staff of the Times gave to the event.

Your effective promotion and follow up on important public affairs of this nature continue to build the Times' reputation for alert reporting, and really fulfill your obligations toward helping to build a better town.

It is my hope that between now and election you will have opportunity to investigate inaccuracies in some claims presented at the meeting. We have a good start in getting the issues before the voters, and follow through on some of the plans you have outlined for campaign coverage will certainly present the whole story before the April 16 election.

Sincerely,
Elmer H. Knudsen

COUNTY CLERK—

of which $2,511 is for schools.
The rate in Mokena is $3.07 of which $2.45 is for school purposes.
These figures pertaining to schools include the rate for Lincoln-Way high and the grade school districts involved.
Broke down the rates in the area are as follows:

Village of Frankfort
County	.186
Forest Preserve	.009
Town Tax	.061
Rd. & Bridge	.210
Village	.378
High School	1.361
157-C	1.150
	$3.355

Comparisons show this amount is 28.9 cents higher than last year. The high school tax shows an increase of 20.9 cents. The grade school rate is the same.
The village tax is up 1.7 cents and the town and road and bridge increase make up the rest of the gain.

The country, forest preserve, town, and road and bridge and high school rates remain constant thruout Frankfort township.

In the village of Mokena the village tax is .144 cent and the grade school district No. 159 has a rate of $1.099, so when all are added together the total for Mokena is $3.070.

This is an increase of 50.1
cents over a year ago. As was pointed out previously, the high school rate is up 20.9 cents. The Mokena grade school rate has climbed 22.9 cents and the rest of it is in the increase in the town and road and bridge.

Persons living in other school districts may use the following table in Frankfort township.

County	.186
Forest Preserve	.009
Town	.061
Road & Bridge	.210
High school	1.361
To these item add the rate for the school in which you live.
They are as follows:

Town .045
Road & Bridge .250
Fire Protection .062
Library .023
High School 1.361
School Dist. 122 1.231
Village .333

The total rate shown above is 49.7 cents higher than the rate last year. The grade school rate is up 25.9 cents and the high school 20.9 cents. The remainder of the increase is due to raise in the town and road and bridge rates.
Persons living in other school districts—New Lenox township —should list all of the rates given above, with the exception of the village rate, and add that for their particular school.

Rates for the other school districts in New Lenox township

"I was visiting a friend the other day when a direct writing auto insurance representative called," Harry Laughton reported. "He was trying to get my friend to switch his auto insurance from your agency to his company. He claimed he could deliver the same thing at a slightly smaller price."

"How did Bill Mulder
it turn out?" I asked.

Harry grinned, "Fortunately,
I've been well coached. So I jumped in the conversation with the statement that while the policies might look alike they would not be the same.

"The direct writer challenged my statement," Harry continued,
"so I asked if he would answer three questions. Naturally, he agreed. I asked if he were a alaried employee of his company. He nodded. I then asked if, after an accident, differences didn't sometimes develop between the company and the policyholder as to the amount of settlement. Again, he nodded.
So I said, suppose you wrote a policy for my friend and an accident occurred which led to a disagreement between the company and him. Whose side would you take, his or that of your company?"

I interrupted, "What happened?"

Harry smiled and concluded,
"He picked up his hat and left without saying a word."

Admittedly, Harry saved the day for me, but also perhaps, for his friend. For as an independent agency, we are pledged to serve the needs of our clients.
We help secure a "fair" settle-

Illinois National Guard Units Offer New Enlistment Program

New programs for fulfilling a military obligation, including an opportunity for a young man to complete his ready reserve military service in three and a half years, are now available to men who enlist in the Illinois National Guard.

Major General Leo M. Boyle, The Adjutant General of Illinois, has outlined the new plans and benefits of Illinois National Guard enlistment in a statement issued today:

a. "Young men between the ages of 17-18½ who enlist in the national guard after April 1, 1957 will be required to take a minimum of 11 weeks of training with the active army. Individuals who take only the 11 week training will be required to serve in a National Guard unit until age 28. A man in this category is also deferred from the draft as explained below.

b. "Men between the ages of 17-18½ may enlist in an Army National Guard unit, take six months of active duty training with the Army and return home to serve for a period of three years in their local units. They are deferred from induction as long as they perform satisfactory service with the national guard, and at the end of three years they will be eligible for transfer to the standby reserve and subject to a call for active federal service only in an emergency declared by congress. In the standby reserve they are not required to participate in any reserve training.

c. "Men over age 18½ and under age 26 who enlist in the national guard after April 1, 1957, if they have had no prior military service, must take the six months of active duty and then serve the remainder of their six year ready reserve obligation in their local national guard unit. Men in this group will be "administratively delayed" from induction so long as they participate satisfactorily with their guard unit.

"The new 11 week program will be available only until October 1, 1957. Young men between 17-18½ must be enlisted and depart for active duty training by that date. After that date all men without prior service enlisting in the national guard must take six months training. This 11 week program will allow high school seniors and juniors to complete the 11-week service during the summer of 1957, thereby enabling them to enter college in September or to continue their high school education. In order to take advantage of this program these young men should be enlisted in the National Guard on or immediately after April 1."

Further information about na tional guard enlistments can be had by contacting local national guard armorys or any army recruiting station, it was stated.

Tinley Personals

The Methodist Men's club plan an interesting meeting for Tuesday, March 26 at 8 pm. in the church social hall. According to Robert Rich, president, Chief Harold Moore will be the principle speaker of the evening, who will tell about the Police department and its relation ship to the community. All men of the community are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. William Darby was hostess at a surprise bridal shower, honoring her niece, Miss Pat Klien on Sunday afternoon. Fifty-six guests gathered to watch the honored guest unwrap the many beautiful gifts as she was seated beneath a pink and white umbrella.

Buffet supper was served. Miss Klien will become the bride of Raymond Russo of Chicago on April 27.

Mary Lou Connelly had the misfortune to fall and break her arm while skating.

Edi-Lu Kent celebrated her seventh birthday March 17. Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones of Winnetka entertained at a birthday dinner. The prized birthday gift was a complete Brownie uniform as Edi is a member of Brownie troop 333.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pieroni of Chicago were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schara.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nitsche were Friday evening guests of Mrs. Ethel Schultz in Chicago. Saturday, the Nitsches motored to Decatur.

Mrs. Dorothy Bettenhausen entertained her Birthday club Friday evening. Pinochle was played.

Movie Makers Show Films at Oak Forest

Among the good works of the motion picture industry, seldom headlined, is the cooperation between eight major moving picture companies to bring entertainment to the patients at Oak Forest Institution, 159th and Cicero.

The patients at Oak Forest are chronically ill, and many have not seen a movie in years; till they are admitted to Oak Forest. Frequently a patient sees their first movie at Oak Forest. Audiences on Monday nights average 650 patients; in beds, and wheelchairs, and those who are ambulant walk to the recreation hall from their wards. On Thursday nights when the high school girls and boys, "Volunteers", are not available to wheel beds and chairs the house averages 450 patients.

This year the Chicago offices of Warner Bros., MGM, Columbia, RKO, 20th Century Fox, Paramount, United Artists, and Allied Studios, provided good movies twice a week, from October through April.

Clarence Jalas, secretary of the Motion Picture Operators union arranges to have skilled operators show the films and supervise sound.

Oak Forest's movie program was begun nine years ago by Walter Dohl, recreation director. Each fall and at year's end Dohl makes the rounds of the local bookers to fill the two a week schedule. At 20th Century Fox he sees Anna Mae Saffren; at Columbia, Herman Coustun; at Paramount, Rod Stevens; at United Artists, Irene Graham; at Warner's, Grace Blanev; at Lowe's, MGM, Herman Marks; at RKO, George Busch, and at Allied, J. J. Clarke.

Dohl says the bookers outdo themselves each year in providing the best entertainment have available. Each shows a personal interest in the patients.

Appropriate Lenten selection scheduled for April 8 is "The Robe." A memorable film produced by 20th Century Fox. Their current "Seven Year Itch" is one of their latest movies which Oak Forest will show April 29.

Showing movies from eight studios permits variety, which offers a selection for every taste. This month's schedule includes MGM's "Valley of the Kings," United Artists' "Ambassador's Daughter," Warner Brothers' "Serenade," Allied's "Canyon River," Columbia's "Count Three and Pray," RKO's "The Bold and the Brave," and Paramount's funny "Court Jester," with Danny Kaye.

"While movies are good for morale," Oak Forest Superintendent Carl K. Schmidt, Jr., says, "here they help to further the patient's rehabilitation. They are another incentive to recovery and rehabilitation which is stressed at Oak Forest."

Warns Against Selling Schools To Washington Bureaucrats

By CONG. N. M. MASON

There is no such thing as free federal aid. The federal government has no money of its own to give away. It must first take away from the citizens of the states in taxation the dollars it so generously gives back to the states. Uncle Sam must also take away from the states the billions it gives to foreign governments. Uncle Sam has not one dime of his own to give away. He can only give away the dollars he takes from YOU and YOU and YOU.

The worst part about federal aid of any kind—whether school aid or welfare aid—is that the federal government collects $2 for every $1 it gives back to the states—especially from Illinois. It would be much easier on the Illinois taxpayer if Illinois took care of its own problems and schools.

Federal School Aid

The total amount appropriated for federal school aid during the eight-year period from July 1, 1949 to July 1, 1957, was $1,997,606,731.00. It was spent as follows:

1. School lunch programs	$ 569,542,600
2. Grants to colleges for agricultural and mechanical arts	140,306,000
3. Grants to States for vocational educational programs	224,699,961
4. School construction grants to local school districts in federally impacted areas—where federal activities have overloaded the regular school accommodations	593,406,019
5. Grants to local school districts for maintenance and operation of schools in federally impacted areas	469,652,151

TOTAL $1,997,606,731

Excerpts from testimony of Merwin K. Hart, President, National Economic Council, before the House Committee on Education and Labor—February 27, 1957

"H. R. 3976, the Federal Aid to Education bill, provides in Section 3 that—'In the administration of this act, no department, officer or employee of the United States shall exercise any direction, supervision or control over the personnel, curriculum or program of instruction of any school or school system'.

"But it is impossible to read the subsequent 40 pages of the bill without realizing that Section 3 is a complete fake. For in those 40 pages are provisions that would tie the public schools of the nation hand and foot to the federal government in Washington. Local control of public education would disappear.

"Take Section 194. It is replete with detailed requirements that must meet with the approval of the United States commissioner of Education. Certainly it would be stupid not to realize that in the power to approve is implicit the power to direct and control.

"If this congress want to make a ten-strike with the country, they will cut from $5 to $10 billion off the present budget. And a good place to begin is to forget this business of so-called federal aid to education.

"The President, in his message on the state of the union, urged capital and labor to exercise restraint in order to halt inflation. But he pays lip service only to restraint on the part of the congress and the administrative department.

"Why then these bills?

"Are they to be taken by the people as a part of that 'Modern Republicanism' of which we have heard so much lately and which has been going over with the people and with a growing number of members of congress, according to my observations, like a campaign to sell over-ripe eggs?

"We earnestly hope that this committee, or if not this committee then this congress, will shelve these ill-advised attempts of the federal government to reach out and capture control of the public education of our children.

"We ask most emphatically that these bills be defeated."

Business and Finance

Maurice P. Angland

There can be no doubt that heavy and increasing Federal spending adds materially to inflationary pressure. However, it is widely recognized that the basic trouble is the wage price spiral which goes on year after year and seemingly without end. For many industries wages represent the principal element in costs and obviously costs dictate selling prices.

At the conclusion of each contract, the large and powerful unions have forced industry to hike wages and benefits or face costly strikes. Union political power is so great that nothing has been done by law makers to restrain their demands or attempt to hold wage increases in line with increased productivity.

The Congress is now discussing reduction in the budget and last week a House committee lopped off a sizeable chunk of appropriations for various agencies. Cynics express the opinion that this Committee cut these budget items to achieve newspaper headlines for itself, knowing full well that the House would restore most of the cuts in the final vote.

Speaker Rayburn of the House has stated he does not expect much of a cut in the budget. It is more than a little difficult to see how the military budget is likely to be cut. Most of our military leaders are of the opinion that the cold war of the past few years, is now hotter than it has been for some time. The situation in the Mideast blows hot and cold as various interests struggle for supremacy for their interests in this very important area. In any case, the United States and the major western European nations would resort to war rather than lose the mideast oil. Loss of that source of oil for any extended period, would result in industrial strangulation for Western Europe. Many Americans forget that industrialization of Western Europe has gone ahead by leaps and bounds since the end of World War II. Oil is the life blood of mechanical development. The U. S. increase in use of petroleum products has been at the rate of 5% per year where as in Western Europe, it has been at the rate of 12 per cent. From a practical point of view, there is no economical substitute for the mideast source of oil.

Professor Sumner Schlichter of Harvard University who has a reputation as a practical economist equalled by few others, expresses the belief that the first half of 1957 will be a period of small month to month changes and that the second half of the year will be a period of greater expansion. He bases his expectations on the anticipated rise in Government expenditures for goods and services, increased expenditures on housing and an increase in personal income due to wage increases.

The magazine U. S. News and World Report expresses the opinion that the stock market will be rising again before business has gone fully through any adjustment that it faces.

The stock market by its very nature, anticipates business changes. The magazine further points out that a bear market of the kind that has been under way, usually lasts little more than one year. This one will be a year old in April. A bull market, may be signaled when money is somewhat more abundant and cheap. There has been a definite easing of world money rates and some easing of money for home building recently.

In America there are over 48,000 nurses enrolled in the Red Cross. Of these, an average of 6,100 served each month last year. Six of every seven nurses volunteered their services in Red Cross chapters.

Earliest New England houses were built of thick planks instead of logs as is generally believed.

Suburbs Swallow Farm Folks, Postal Records Disclose

Suburbia is swallowing up Illinois and Michigan rural families at the rate of 15,150 a month, according to figures released by Robert R. Justus, Chicago regional director of the post office department. Postoffices in the two states, excluding the upper peninsula of Michigan served 181,814 fewer families on rural routes at the beginning of 1957 than they did a year previous, postal records show.

Farm folk aren't necessarily moving away, Justus pointed out. They are being surrounded by city dwellers moving out into the open spaces. As a result, in the past 12 months, postal headquarters in Chicago established 509 new city carrier routes, most of them in mushrooming suburban areas.

Justus explained that city delivery service was granted to approximately 207,061 additional families, about 725,000 persons in Illinois and Southern Michigan in the past 12 months.

At the present time 4,000,047 families in the Chicago region are served by city carrier service while less than a fifth of the two state population 739,000 families, are on rural routes.

Last year visitors from 38 countries studied American Red Cross service procedures and programs in preparation for establishing or expanding Red Cross activities in their own nations.

Chester, common ending for English town names, comes from the Roman word caester meaning camp, since many were original Roman camp sites.

Laguna Woods

Mrs. Robert Anderson
Feldbrook 9-2857

Several children from Laguna were guests Sunday of Keith Case who celebrated her ninth birthday. Keith received lovely gifts from her guests, who in turn had a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon playing games in the Case home on 80th ave. Birthday cake and ice cream were served.

Mrs. William Snedden and Mrs. Niebrugge entertained Friday evening at a Koffee or Game night for the ladies of Laguna, in the lovely Snedden home. Bunco was the game of the evening and all had a fine time. The hostesses served a variety of home made pies and coffee. Mrs. H. L. Woodbury discovered a toothpick in her slice of pie and won a decorated bottle opener. The girls with the winning scores were Mrs. Wilbur Eckel, Mrs. William Murphy, Mrs. Geo. Carroll and Mrs. Carl Olson. The unusual prizes were a set of colored (coaster) collars, note paper, a spiral dog letter holder, and a lovely pink scarf.

The girls are asked to fill out a short form which will be sent to them sometime this week in regards to the Crazy bunco that was suggested last year and due to illness had never materialized. Please check and return to Mrs. Anderson, thank you.

If you would like to enroll your child in Sunday school and are unable to do so due to transportation, contact writer.

Congratulations to Mrs. Geo. Bendix who will be the vice president of the Orland Park PTA next term.

Orland's volunteer fire department and the police were quick to arrive last Sunday morning at the urgent summons of the Ray Cebolds. The Cebolds gas stove exploded, however Ray had things under control when the fire department arrived. Its a mighty wonderful feeling to know that when you need help in an emergency its as close to you as your telephone.

Mr. Richie of the Orland Fire department left tickets with Mr. Anderson for the Spring Frolic dance to benefit the Fire department. The date is Saturday, May 25. We hope you will support your fire department by buying tickets. For those of you who are new to the community we'd like you to know the volunteers do not receive any salary and any contributions from you and the money collected from the dance tickets are for the upkeep of the Orland Park Fire department. $10.00 a year from each family would be a big help to them and in comparison to a fire would be little missed by each of us.

It has been reported by the owner that a new home has been broken into twice during the past week, probably during the day time. If any one sees anything suspicious, please call the constable in Orland or summon your neighbors.

Pastor Tells of Tinley's Need For Library

Editor's Note: The following is the second of a series of expressions from local personalities on "Why the Community Needs a Library," this one from the pastor of the Zion Lutheran church.)

by Rev. Randolph Hahn

The living, active world of people and things can become more real to both young and old thru the use of books. Few of us can ever expect to experience all the interesting happenings or attain all of the knowledge which our world boasts today. However, through the reading of books and periodicals we can come close to the actual activities of everyday living. Reading has a very real connection with life, both the drama of the past and the present. Adventure, mystery, friendship, humor, ambition, all can be found in the pages of literature.

There are few families who can possibly have a possession of books which encompasses all the tastes in reading which just they alone might have. Therefore, where do these adults and boys and girls seek for further adventure or knowledge? -A Public Library.

Many of the courses of study in our junior and senior high schools require frequent outside research of reference books for additional material. Where can students go for this information? -A Public Library.

A community which has grown to the size of Tinley Park certainly should be vitally interested and determined to set forth a plan whereby a Public Library can be set up and supported. Our community encourages constructive civic programs. What better project than providing proper literature and reference material for youth as well as adults! A Public Library will do this. Rather less watching of TV "trash" and more quiet relaxation with a good book-Result: Better citizens. Better community. Better world.

Observance of Lent Goes Back To Apostles

By Robert L. Reynolds,
Managing Editor of 'Jubilee' (Paulist Feature Service)
"What are you giving up for Lent?" is a question that has been asked in many different tongues for over nineteen hundred years.

The practice of imitating Christ's forty-day fast in the desert—in memory of Christ's passion and death and in preparation for Easter—built up gradually from the time of the Apostles.

The documents that remain to us from the earliest Christian times suggest, however, that the observance of Lent as we know it, was not universal in Christendom until about the fourth century.

Athanasius, the Bishop of Alexandria in Egypt, journeyed thru Western Europe in those early days. He noted—apparently with some surprise—that the forty-day Lent was observed everywhere.

Writing back to his clergy in Alexandria in 339, he urged them to 'proclaim the fast of forty days to the brethren, and persuade them to fast; to the end that while all the world is fasting, we who are in Egypt should not become a laughing-stock as the only people who do not fast.'

In the Middle Ages, the 'truce of God' applied during Lent, so that no wars were fought during this season. Armies interrupted their campaigns, law courts were closed, and hunting was forbidden.

The custom of fasting goes back many centuries before the Christian era, but its religious purpose has always remained the same. "Fasting," wrote St. John Chrysostom in the fifth century, "brings the body under and bridle its ill-regulated desires. It render the soul also more clear and bright."

It was the habit of the Jews to eat only one meal on fastings days, and not to take that until sunset. On the days of Lent the early Christians adopted the same practice, keeping thus the so-called "black fast."

Despite its severity, the early Christians considered fasting to be of little merit unless the faithful also performed works of mercy and entered into the spirit of Lent by seeking to come closer to God. "Little is gained if the substance of the body is diminished, but the strength of the soul is not increased."

Lenten practices of 1957 are different from the practices of the year 339—but the need for Lent has been the same thruout the centuries. The history of Lent 1957 will be written by us in our response to Christ's call: "If anyone wishes to come after me, let him deny himself."

Here is What Happened to 1956 Corn Crop

What happened to Illinois' record 1956 corn crop?

If the national consumption scale can be applied to Illinois, about 85 per cent of the record-smashing production of 598,672,000 bushels was fed to hogs, cattle and poultry, being ultimately consumed by people in the form of meat, milk and eggs.

The remaining 15 percent is filling an increasingly important role in the nation's food and non-food industries, according to Corn Industries Research Foundation, Inc.

Altho Illinois corn acreage was down in 1956, it led the nation in its big contribution to the national harvest of 3 billion, 451 million bushels, second greatest on record. It was the largest corn production year in Illinois history and the fifth time in nine years the crop has exceeded 500 million bushels.

In addition, the Illinois yield of 68 bushels per acre, another state record, was 50 per cent greater than the national average, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture reports. Records reveal the current yield is nearly double the average Illinois yield of 30 years ago.

Thus, the rich bounty of Illinois farmlands is adding to the growing problem of surplus corn and, in turn, helping to increase the tempo of research activities in the search for new uses for the golden kernel.

In the expanded industrial uses for products derived from corn, many industry and government leaders see an answer to the problems of surpluses and current excess farm production.

In one way or another, every part of the corn kernel—starch, gluten germ and hull—is transformed by the corn refining industry into products needed.

Most versatile of all corn products is starch, well known for its kitchen and laundry uses. Less familiar are its many food industry functions; in the manufacture of bakery products, candy, beer, prepared desserts, sausages and ground-meat products, salt and even powdered sugar.

Largest industrial consumer of starch is the paper-manufacturing industry, which uses half a billion pounds yearly for sizings and coatings. Such contrasting products as dynamite sticks, aspirin tablets and match heads are held together by starch.

Steepwater, a valuable corn by-product resulting from steeping the kernels in warm water to loosen the hulls and corn germs, in the chief food for molds which produce penicillin, aureomycin and other life-saving drugs.

In the effort to unfold more secrets of the carbohydrate molecule for new industrial applications, member companies of the Corn Industries Research Foundation sponsor research studies at colleges, universities, government and private science centers.

At the individual company level, scientists and technicians are pushing applied research studies in the development of their own products.

Under consideration is a large scale program of government-sponsored research projects to investigate the possibilities for:

Further utilization of starch by metallurgical industries; as an integral part of paper; cotton and starch combinations; development of wood-like structural materials utilizing starch; materials useful in soil conditioning and highway construction; starch as a raw material for synthetic chemicals; utilization of starch in insecticides and defoliating formulations.

Commenting on these proposed investigations, one corn industry spokesman said:

"If only a few of these projects were to yield significant new knowledge, the resulting increased use of corn might go far to reduce the burden of surplus under which taxpayers now stagger."

L-W Industrial Club Members On Town Today

Forty high school boys from Frankfort, Manhattan, Mokena and New Lenox will have a highlight added to their education today, thru the interest and effort of Roy P. Kropp of Master Supply Co., Joliet.

The boys are sophomores, juniors and seniors at Lincoln-Way high school, and all are members of the Industrial Education Club at school.

In wanting to learn about industry, and see industrial plants at work, they took their problem to Mr. Kropp, who lives in Mokena.

With Master Supply the Rheem wholesaler in Joliet and vicinity, Mr. Kropp decided that the large Rheem plant in Chicago should be a good industrial tour for the boys. Rheem Manufacturing Co. agreed to help Mr. Kropp help the members of the Lincoln-Way Industrial Education club.

Arriving by bus at the Rheem Chicago plant at mid morning today, the boys will see a variety of manufacturing. They will see how flat sheets of steel become colorful lithographed drums for industrial packaging; and they will see the successive stages of manufacturing automatic storage water heaters.

At other stations in the large plant they will see fabrication of parts and assembly of warm air furnaces, and the manufacture and testing of central air conditioning.

Careers for their future will be one of the foremost interests of the club. Thus, they will be able to get a close view of the jobs in manufacturing and see the results of such jobs as engineering, planning, personnel and management.

In addition, they will see an excellent object lesson of the importance of safety at work. All of the 17 Rheem plants thru out the United States receive frequent safety awards for avoiding accidents, and the Chicago plant is one of the safest. The machine shop, for example has worked more than 11 years without a loss time accident.

Information on careers for young men will be further augmented during this visit. The boys will be given a luncheon by the management of Rheem Chicago at the conclusion of their tour.

This tour, according to Joe Kruzich, industrial arts instructor at Lincoln-Way and faculty sponsor of the club, could help some of the boys toward decisions on some of the careers they will see and hear about to day.

For, as Mr. Kruzich points out, fathers of the club members are engaged in a number of occupations, such as law, railroading, industry, manufacturing, the ministry, electrical work, carpentry and contracting.

The next tour for the members of the Industrial Education club at the high school has not been fully determined, according to Mr. Kruzich. He added, however, that Rheem is helping him find other plants in the Chicago area that would be of interest to the club members at Lincoln-Way.

For more than thirty years, the South African Red Cross has cooperated with its nation's mining industry in training miners to give emergency help to injured workmates. In the last complete fiscal year, more than 53,000 non-European workers attended the special practical first aid course.

that's THE LAW

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE
BAR ASSOCIATION

Have you ever wondered what a lawyer or realtor means when he speaks of an "abstract of title?" Stated most generally, an abstract of title is a summary of all the transactions, such as sales or mortgages, which have taken place concerning a particular piece of land since it has been privately owned.

For example, take lot 10 in block 3 of Paddock's New Home subdivision, a hypothetical parcel of land in Wayne county. The U. S. Government originally owned this lot, and in 1820 the government conveyed it and many adjoining parcels to Christopher Jones. The essential facts in this conveyance will be shown as the first entry in the abstract for lot 10. Likewise, each subsequent transaction affecting the title to lot 10 is set out, chronologically, right down to things that happened last month or even last week.

What's In an Abstract?

What sort of transactions are mentioned in abstracts of title? Many of the entries in the abstract for lot 10 describe deeds conveying lot 10 or any part of it, together with a reference to the book and page in the county recorder's office where a copy of the actual deed can be found. The abstract will also contain a note of the death of any owner of lot 10 and a reference to the proceedings of the deceased's estate. The abstract concisely explains any provision of the deceased's will involving lot 10, or if there is no will, the names of known heirs are listed. Similarly, the abstract shows mortgage or tax foreclosure proceedings relating to the property, and the bankruptcy of an owner. These are only a few examples of common abstract entries which should make an unbroken chain of conveyances from the U. S. to the present owner, but often do not.

Who Compiles Abstracts?

As you can see, almost all the information in the abstract is obtained from local records. The law requires that deeds and mortgages be filed for record in the county recorder's office and estate, foreclosure and bankruptcy proceedings are similarly set out in the county records. But when you want to buy lot 10 and the seller wants to show you he can give you good title, instead of spending several days floundering thru the old county records he goes to the local abstractor who has the old abstract to lot 10. For a certain fee the abstractor will review the county records, make the abstract current and supply the seller with an up-to-date "book" showing the history of title in a chain of transfers to lot 10 from 1820 to this moment.

But buyers must realize that merely because the seller has a current abstract which shows a transfer to him, this is far from adequate proof of merchantable title. The important and technical task of evaluating abstract entries must be done by competent legal counsel, who is able to decide whether the seller's "title" is good and free from defects.

(This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.)

Don't Forget Signature on Tax Returns

Thousands of incomplete tax returns are being received by the Chicago office of the internal revenue service, district director H. Alan Long disclosed today. The returns lack one or both of the required signatures, Long said, or they have printed "signatures" which are not acceptable.

"While we naturally assume that failure to sign is due to an oversight, we can't accept such returns and we are compelled to send them back. Since our mail is heavy during the filing season, the incomplete return may not go back to the taxpayer until days or weeks after it is sent in.

"In the case of a taxpayer seeking a refund, an unfortunate delay may result, and, in the case of one owing additional tax and even sending a check to pay it, he can't get credit until the return is completed. The check goes back along with the return, since they must be processed together.

"So please Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, take heed and sign; one signature for single persons, two for married couples if filing jointly. And please sign as you have entered your name or names at the top of the form," Mr. Long asked. "Care by the taxpayer to this important requirement will help all of us."

It has been carefully figured that a gift of $5 to the American Red Cross will provide travel expenses for approximately 280 of the long miles of a trip home by a serviceman called from duty because of a family emergency.

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by local clergy designed to produce greater church attendance between now and Easter.

A mother: "I go to church because my soul needs spiritual food, and because of my God-given responsibility for the religious nurture of my children."

A son: "I go to church because I love what is wholesome."

A daughter: "I go to church because it is there that I can see visions and dream dreams and set my ideals high."

A father: "I go to church because it refreshes our home, business and social life, and I want to help build God's Kingdom here while I live on earth."

Thought for the Day

The kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared. (Titus 3:4.)

One autumn I was making an evangelistic tour in Mesopotamia. Entering a village, I asked its name. The answer was "Shakar Khach," meaning "Sugar Cross." When I visited the village, it was inhabited entirely by non-Christians. Adverse and withering storms of hatred and vengeance have been as a scourge upon that territory.

But what a suggestive name for a town—"Sugar Cross"! The name suggests that at one time the village was inhabited by Christians. It suggests that they found joy in their walk with Christ. It implies that they knew the sweet and precious significance of the cross on which the kindness and love of God were revealed to all mankind—and all on account of our sins!

By the way of the cross of Christ, God's love answers man's need. Only by the way of the cross it is possible to enrich the relationships between persons, families, and nations.

PRAYER

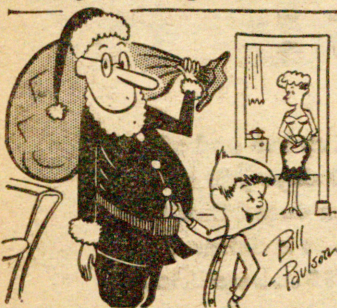

O God, we praise Thee for so many witnesses who through untold sufferings and troubles have stood faithful to Thee and tested the strength of Thy cross. Give me grace to feed by faith at Thy table today. Dear Lord, make my life sweet. For the Redeemer's sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Illinois, Oklahoma Lead All States in Tornado Damage

Most people will live their lives without ever experiencing a tornado. However, this does not mean that tornados are not a real threat in Illinois. For some of the worst tornados ever to occur have swept across sections of Illinois. Altho Illinois ranks approximately tenth among the states in tornado frequency, it leads all other states in the number of persons killed by tornados. In the amount of property damage by tornados, Illinois also ranks quite high being second only to Oklahoma. But Oklahoma property damage includes very heavy losses to expensive military airplanes in 1949. Considering only non military property the Illinois damage total would be far ahead that of any other state.

Most of the Illinois tornado deaths and much of the property damage occurred in a single storm on March 18, 1925. This storm known as the great tri-state tornado and also called the Murphysboro tornado killed 689 people in three states of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana with 606 of these deaths occurring in Illinois. Another very destructive tornado hit Mattoon and Charleston, Ill. May 26, 1917 causing a death toll of 101.

The most likely time of occurrence for Illinois tornados is during the afternoon and evening hours. Fifty two percent of Illinois tornados have their beginning between 3 and 7 pm. Destructive tornados are more likely to occur in the central and southern part of the state than in the north portion. Tornados are well known for their narrow path of destruction and for the relatively long path compared with the width. Some of the smaller tornados with widths of only 100 to 300 yards may travel for only a few miles or they may tend to skip from one spot to another with no damage in between.

The tri-state tornado of March 18, 1925 still stands as the most destructive in life and property known in the United States. It killed 689 persons injured nearly 2000 others and caused property losses of more than 16 million dollars. This was one of eight tornados that occurred on the same date in the central United States. The tornado began at 1 pm. in Reynolds County, Missouri. It followed a straight and continuous path east and northeast across Illinois entering Indiana and disappearing 16 miles beyond Princeton at 4:18 pm. The total length of path was 219 miles. The width of the storm area varied from a half mile to one mile. This storm traveled across country with unusual speed. The speed of advance in Illinois was almost 60 miles per hour. Illinois cities and towns lying directly in the tornado path were Gorham, Murphysboro, Desoto, Bush, West Frankfort, Parish, Holga and Crossville. Murphysboro, which had a population of 13,000 suffered the greatest total damage of any community in the path of the storm. 1200 dwellings in the city were damaged or destroyed with the area of destruction covering 60 per cent of the entire city. The total death toll in Murphysboro was 234 killed with 800 others injured. West Frankfort was the largest city to be involved. The death toll in West Frankfort was 127 and 450 others were injured.

The Mattoon tornado of May 26, 1917 originated near Louisiana, Mo., about noon and moved eastward with a path width 1.4 to 1.2 mile. It is credited with having the longest continuous tornado path on record. The storm continued eastward for 293 miles ending in Jennings County, Ind. at 7:20 pm. Hardest hit communities in the storm path were Mattoon and Charleston. There were 101 deaths in this storm with 53 killed in Mattoon and 38 in Charleston. Total property damage of the Mattoon Charleston tornado was given at 2 1/2 million dollars. Apparently this storm must have traveled most of the time thru open country so that the death toll and the damage was comparatively small for such a long tornado.

Other Illinois tornados causing 19 or more deaths occurred at Mt. Vernon, Feb. 19, 1888; 16 deaths in the Chicago area, on March 28, 1920; 28 deaths, Central part of Illinois, April 19, 1927; 21 deaths at Rockford, Sept. 14, 1928; 14 deaths at Belleville, March 15, 1938; 10 deaths in central part of Illinois, March 30, 1938; 13 deaths; and in Madison and Macoupin counties on March 19, 1948, 33 deaths.

May is said to be the worst month for tornados in Illinois

Full Slate- Or No Ticket, Kerner Rules

(CNS)—The Bi-Partisan party has been ruled off the Lemont township ballot because its nominating petitions lacked a candidate for one office.

An electoral board head by County Judge Otto Kerner has ruled that under state law a party must file a full slate.

On April 2 Lemont township voters will elect a supervisor, town clerk, assessor, collector, highway commissioner, constable and three justices of the peace.

The Bi-Partisan party put up candidates for all of the offices except one of the justices of the peace. It had only two candidates for the three J. P. posts to be filled.

Other members of the electoral board were Judge Hugo Friend and Clerk Nelson. The last named is not up for re-election. Other township officers are and thus could not sit on the board.

Township attorney Roy E. McCarthy, who contested the Bi-Partisan party's petitions, said:

"I don't want to disenfranchise anyone. The candidates are all good friends of ours. We probably would not have objected had their petition read 'Independent' and not 'Bi-Partisan.'"

The Citizens' Taxpayers party, another political organization in the township, has a full slate.

Judge Kerner said that state law directs a new party to file candidates for all offices up for election.

"If this were an independent petition", he added, "the board would feel that the requirement would not have to be met."

"The board feels political competition is good for a community."

"It is unfortunate that the statute was not complied with in this case."

The Extension Landscaping meeting held last week was well attended and information packed.

The very pertinent question What trees may I plant in place of the American Elm, was asked. The answer: Hackberry, Thornless Honey Locust, Sycamore, Green Ash and Linden.

Lawn care at this time of year should include an application of 10-10-10 fertilizer at the rate of 20-25 pounds per 1000 square feet. Water or brush in to prevent burning.

When surface soil is dry enough, roll your lawn to bring roots back in contact with soil. Mow when grass is about 3 inches tall.

The best weapon against crab grass is a vigorous, thick stand of lawn grass. This crowds out the crabgrass.

University of Illinois Circulars 729 "Foundation Plantings" and 729 "How to Have an Attractive Lawn" are available free at my office. They contain very pertinent information about types of plants and grasses and proper care. A 2 cent postcard, a telephone call or a visit to the office will get you a circular.

Mrs. LeRoy Bauman, 6530 Glenview Drive, Tinley Park, leader of the Helping Hands 4H club recently received a 4H flag set for contributing an article to the National 4H News, a magazine designed to disseminate ideas and better methods among 4H folks.

This act is symbolic of 4H leaders as they are always willing to share ideas in their efforts to Make the Best Better.

Fertilized grass pastures will be ready to use at an earlier date and will produce more feed than those that are not fertilized. Thirty pounds of actual nitrogen per acre in March or early April will give you pasture that added yield.

University of Illinois marketing specialists are studying the buying habits of shoppers to find out where they will buy the most flowers or potted plants.

The same kinds of flowers, at the same price, are available in a supermarket, a variety store and a floral shop.

The results of this study should help flower growers increase their sales by revealing where people want to buy flowers. And shoppers should be able to find more varieties and higher quality as volume of sales goes up.

is decreasing. In February 1954 there were 24,208 producers on the Chicago market. By October 1956 the number was estimated to be 21,100; a reduction of 3,108 or 12 1/2 percent.

Milk production per head is increasing in most milksheds in the United States. In 1956 the daily production per herd in the Chicago area averaged 596 pounds, or not quite double that of 1940, when 333 pounds were produced.
